

For more than forty years, Fred Halback has brought a unique set of talents to the planning, design and management industry.

Combining a master's eye for detail, as well as an ability to anticipate and respond to critical client needs, Fred has created an impressive resume of highly visible, large, complex projects. These projects stand as a testament not only to Fred's creative talents, but also to his ability as a facilitator, negotiator and most importantly, as a communicator.

Projects designed by Fred have resulted in dozens of state and national awards including two Environmental Design Awards presented in White House ceremonies by the First Lady.
